

Ed Tech Update

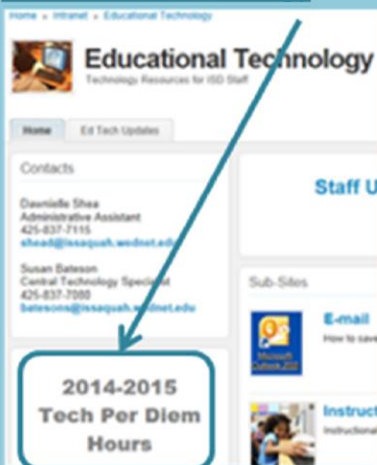

From the ISD Educational Technology Department

Volume 4, Issue 4
December 8, 2014

This is the 4th 2014-15 edition of the Ed Tech Update, brought to you by the Ed Tech Department, and is provided to give you an update on classes, software tips, resources, and other important information. More information can also be found on the Ed Tech Connect site: click here to access.

How many Tech Per Diem hours have you accessed this year?

A spreadsheet that includes the total number of hours that you have accessed along with the list of classes that you have submitted for has been linked to the Educational Technology site.

Please review this data and ensure that it is correct. Bookmark the site and reference it before attending training eligible for Tech Per Diem Pay. Email techtraining@issaquah.wednet.edu with any questions and/or corrections.

Questions?

Have questions about integrating technology with your students? Please contact Natalie Boyle, Carrie Reckling, or Josh Moore

Hour of Code

Interested in participating in the largest learning event in history? December 8-14 is Computer Science Education Week and teachers across the world are being encouraged to introduce an Hour of Code in their classrooms. The goal is to get 100 million students worldwide to do an Hour of Code by the end of 2014. There are a variety of resources out there for teachers. Want to find out more? Visit hourofcode.com, review the linked handout, or watch the video linked below.

Issaquah Technology Project (ITP) 2014-2015

Have you started your ITP application yet? ITP has been reconfigured once again to meet the continual changes in classroom technology. This year there will be one elementary session and one secondary session, to allow us to provide more technology for each participant. Sessions are offered for teachers who have either never attended ITP or have not attended since summer 2011. All teachers must complete an application even if they have attended ITP previously.

One important difference this year, is that the entire application process is online. For more information and to see the application, please visit the ITP Application site the Connect Intranet under Educational Technology.

The Participant Application Form and the Administrator Referral Form must be submitted (through the ITP Application site) on or before 4:30 p.m. January 9th, 2015.

Please email itpmail@issaquah.wednet.edu for questions regarding ITP or the application process.

YouTube on iPads

The YouTube app will no longer work on iPads, although you do have the ability to enter the YouTube override from the Safari browser. The YouTube override account can be found on the Educational Technology site.